9. Valuation - Approach & Methodology:

Valuation – Overview:

It is pertinent to note that the valuation of any company or its assets is inherently imprecise and is subject to certain uncertainties and contingencies, all of which are difficult to predict and are beyond our control. In performing our analysis, I have made numerous assumptions with respect to industry performance and general business and economic conditions, many of which are beyond the control of the companies. In addition, this valuation will fluctuate with changes in prevailing market conditions, and prospects, financial and otherwise, of the Companies, and other factors which generally influence the valuation of companies and their assets.

In particular, I would like to draw the attention of the readers of the report to the fact that every company operates under different economic legislations of the country like Companies Act 2013, Income Tax Act 1961 and various other acts/regulations/guidelines/rules, as applicable to the Industry or to the company/ies, in which they operate including those regulations or rules pertaining to Environment, Foreign Exchange, Banking and so on. Such rules or regulations or economic or legal framework under which the company/ies operate may change in future, and all such changes (legislative or otherwise) occurring in all countries where the Companies does business or have interests, either as a supplier or procurer or otherwise may affect the financial and operational performance of the companies and consequently the valuation thereof.

Valuation base:

Valuation Base means the indication of the type of value being used in an engagement. Different Valuation bases may lead to different conclusions of value. In transaction of the nature of merger or amalgamation of companies or merger or demerger of businesses, the consideration is often discharged primarily by issue of securities in the nature of Equity of the acquirer or transferee entity with reference to an exchange ratio/entitlement ratio considering the relative values.

Considering the nature of this exercise, we have considered Relative Value as the Valuation base.

Premise of value:

Premise of value refers to the conditions and circumstances how an asset is deployed. We have considered Going Concern Value and Replacement Value as applicable to the companies being valued, as the Premise of Value.

Intended Users: The report is intended for consumption of both the Board of Directors of the Transferor and Transferee Company and for the purpose of submission to the relevant regulatory authorities.

The Scheme contemplates the merger of MTPL into MCL. Arriving at the Share Exchange Ratio for the Proposed Transaction would require determining value of the equity shares of MCL & MTPL independently but on a relative basis and without considering the current transaction. The Scheme contemplates the Proposed Transaction pursuant to the provisions of Sections 230 to 232 and other applicable provisions of the Companies Act, 2013.

As discussed below, there are several commonly used and accepted methods for determining the Share Exchange Ratio for the proposed merger of MCL into MTPL, which have been considered in the present case, to the extent relevant and applicable.

- 1) Cost Approach :-
 - 1.1) Replacement Cost Method.
 - 1.2) Reproduction Cost method.
- 2) Income Approach :- Discounted Cash Flows method
- 3) Market Approach
 - 3.1) Market Price method
 - 3.2) Comparable Transaction Method
 - 3.3) Guideline Publicly Traded Comparable method

1. Cost Approach - Cost approach is a valuation approach that reflects the amount that would be required currently to replace the service capacity of an asset (often referred to as current replacement cost).

The cost approach provides an indication of value using the economic principle that a buyer will pay no more for an asset than the cost to obtain an asset of equal utility, whether by purchase or by construction, unless undue time, inconvenience, risk or other factors are involved. The approach provides an indication of value by calculating the current replacement or reproduction cost of an asset and making deductions for physical deterioration and all other relevant forms of obsolescence.

1.1 Replacement Cost Method - Replacement Cost Method, also known as 'Depreciated Replacement Cost Method' involves valuing an asset based on the cost that a market participant shall have to incur to recreate an asset/business with substantially the same utility (comparable utility and not the same physical property of the asset) as that of the asset/business sought to be valued, adjusted for physical deterioration obsolescence.

The replacement cost is generally that of a modern equivalent asset, which is one that provides similar function and equivalent utility to the asset being valued, but which is of current design and constructed or made using current cost-effective materials and techniques.

Taking into consideration the business of MCL and MTPL, we have applied the Replacement Cost Method to be one of the methods for valuation.

1.2 Reproduction Cost Method - This method involves valuing an asset based on the cost that a market participant shall have to incur to recreate a replica of the asset to be valued, adjusted for obsolescence. It is difficult to ascertain the cost to recreate the business model of the companies (manufacturing units, supplier/customer ecosystem, human resources, processes, both front office and back-office) and other relationships (banking and so on). Hence, this method is not used for the valuation of the Companies.

2. Income Approach - Discounted Cash Flow (DCF) Method.

Under the DCF method, the business is valued by discounting its free cash flows for the explicit forecast period and the perpetuity value thereafter. The Free Cash Flows to Firm ("FCFF") represent the cash available for distribution to the owners as well as lenders of the business and the Free Cash Flows to Equity ("FCFE") represent the cash available for distribution to the owners of the business. The free cash flows to firm are discounted by the Weighted Average Cost of Capital ("WACC") and the free cash flows to equity are discounted by the Cost of Equity ("Ke"). The WACC or Ke, based on an optimal vis-à-vis actual capital structure, is an appropriate rate of discount to calculate the present value of the future cash flows as it considers risk of the firm.

The perpetuity (terminal) value is calculated based on the business's potential for further growth beyond the explicit forecast period. The "Constant Growth Model" is applied, which implies an expected constant level of growth for perpetuity in the cash flows over the last year of the forecast period.

The discounting factor (rate of discounting the future cash flows) reflects not only the time value of money, but also the risk associated with the business's future operations. The Business/Enterprise Value (aggregate of the present value of explicit period and terminal period cash flows) so derived, is further reduced by the value of debt, if any, (net of cash and cash equivalents) to arrive at value to the owners of the business.

Since both MCL and MTPL have not provided the future cash flow on the ground of price sensitivity, we have not used the income method of valuation.

3. Market Approach

3.1) Market Price Method

The market price of equity shares as quoted on a stock exchange is normally considered as the fair indicator of the value of the equity shares of the company where such quotations are arising from the shares being regularly and freely traded in, subject to the element of speculative support that may be inbuilt in the value of such shares. But there could be situations where the value of the share as quoted on the stock market would not be regarded as a proper index of the fair value of the share, specially where the market values are fluctuating in a volatile capital market and/or not frequently traded.

Both the companies are traded in BSE & NSE and are coming within the perview of frequently traded Shares.

As already explained herein above the companies have not provided the future plans and projected financials on the ground of price sensitivity. Hence, along with Replacement Cost Method under cost approach and market price (taken at six months' average) method under market approach with an appropriate weightage has been considered in the present context.

3.2. Comparable Transaction Method ('CTM') Model

The comparable transactions method, also known as the guideline transaction method, utilises information involving transaction that are the same or similar to the subject asset to arrive at an indication of value under this method. Value of the equity shares of a company's business is arrived at by using multiples derived from valuation in comparable companies as manifest through transaction valuations. There are number of CTM's like Price to Sales Ratio, PBV Ratio (Price to Book Value), EV / EBITDA Multiples, EV / EBIT Multiples and Price Earnings Multiples. Appropriate weightage is also given to arrive at a fair value. In case of the companies under reference and taking into consideration several factors like Current Asset Size, Capital Employed, Operating Revenue, Human Resource deployed, Current Turnover, Production Level, Management Efficiency & Structure and so on, I am unable to find information/data of a comparable company in the public domain wherein the deal of this nature has been carried to apply the Comparable Transaction Method. Hence, Comparable

Transaction Method have not been considered for the valuation of Equity Shares of the Companies under reference.

3.3) Guideline Publicly-Traded Comparable Method

The guideline publicly-traded method utilises information on publicly-traded comparable that are the same or similar to the subject asset to arrive at an indication of value. This method is similar to the comparable transactions method. However, there are several differences due to the comparable, being publicly traded, as follows:

- (a) the valuation metrics/comparable evidence are available as of the valuation date.
- (b) detailed information on the comparable are readily available in public filings, and
- (c) the information contained in public filings is prepared under well understood accounting standards.

Under this method value of the equity shares of a company is arrived at by using multiples derived from valuations of comparable companies, as manifest through stock market or other public filing documents/information (of listed companies). This valuation is based on the principle that market valuations, taking place between informed buyers and informed sellers, incorporate all factors relevant to valuation. Relevant multiples need to be chosen carefully and adjusted for differences between the circumstances under which this valuation is being done.

In case of the companies in reference taking into consideration several factors like Current Asset Size, Capital Employed, Operating Revenue, Human Resource deployed, Current Turnover, Production Level, Management Efficiency & Structure and so on, I am unable to find information/data or a Comparable companies in the public domain wherein the deal of this nature has been carried out to apply Guideline Publicly-Traded Comparable Method. Hence, Guideline Publicly-Traded Comparable Method has not been considered for the valuation of Equity Shares of the Companies under reference and in the present context.

9. Basis of Share Exchange Ratio:

The basis of the Proposed Transaction would have to be determined after taking into consideration all the factors and methodologies mentioned above. Though different values have been arrived at under each of the above methodologies, for the purpose of recommending a fair Share Exchange Ratio of equity shares, it is necessary to arrive at a single value for each of the business/subject companies' shares. It is however important to note that in doing so we are not attempting to arrive at the absolute equity values of the Companies but at their relative values to facilitate the determination of a fair Share Exchange Ratio. For this purpose, it is necessary to give appropriate weights to the values arrived at under each methodology.

The Share Exchange Ratio has been arrived at on the basis of a relative equity valuation of MCL and MTPL. The Share Exchange Ratio is based on the various methodologies explained herein earlier and various qualitative factors relevant to each company and the business dynamics and growth potentials of the businesses of the companies, having regard to available information base, key underlying assumptions and limitations.

Independent Auditor's Review Report on Quarterly and Nine Months ended Unaudited Financial Results Pursuant to the Regulation 33 of the SEBI (Listing Obligations and Disclosure Requirements) Regulation 2015, as amended

To the Board of Directors of Mangalam Cement Limited

1. We have reviewed the accompanying statement of unaudited financial results ("the Statement") of Mangalam Cement Limited ("the Company") for the quarter and nine months ended December 31, 2019. This Statement is the responsibility of the Company's Management and has been approved by the Board of Directors. Our responsibility is to issue a report on the statement based on our review.
2. We conducted our review of the Statement in accordance with the Standard on Review Engagements (SRE) 2410 "Review of Interim Financial Information Performed by the Independent Auditor of the Entity", issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. This standard requires that we plan and perform the review to obtain moderate assurance as to whether the financial results are free of material misstatement. A review is limited primarily to inquiries of company personnel and analytical procedures applied to financial data and thus provides less assurance than an audit. We have not performed an audit and accordingly, we do not express an audit opinion.
3. Based on our review conducted as above, nothing has come to our attention that causes us to believe that the accompanying statement of unaudited financial results read with notes therein, prepared in all material respects in accordance with the applicable accounting standards and other recognized accounting practices and policies, has not disclosed the information required to be disclosed in terms of Regulation 33 of the SEBI (Listing Obligations and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2015, as amended, including the manner in which it is to be disclosed, or that it contains any material misstatement.

The Board of Directors
Mangalam Timber Products Limited

1. We have reviewed the accompanying statement of unaudited financial results ("the Statement") of Mangalam Timber Products Limited ("the Company") for the quarter and nine months ended December 31, 2019.

2. The Statement, which is the responsibility of the Company's Management and approved by the Board of Directors, has been prepared in accordance with the recognition and measurement principles laid down in Indian Accounting Standard 34, Interim Financial Reporting (Ind AS 34), prescribed under Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act") and other accounting principles generally accepted in India and in compliance with regulation 33 of SEBI (Listing obligation and Disclosure Requirements) Regulation, 2015 ("Listing Regulation"). Our responsibility is to issue a report on the statement based on our review.

3. We conducted our review of the Statement in accordance with the Standard on Review Engagements (SRE) 2410 "Review of Interim Financial Information Performed by the Independent Auditor of the Entity" issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. This standard requires that we plan and perform the review to obtain moderate assurance as to whether the financial results are free of material misstatement. A review is limited primarily to inquiries of company personnel and analytical procedures applied to financial data and thus provides less assurance than an audit. We have not performed an audit and accordingly, we do not express an audit opinion.

4. Based on our review conducted as above, nothing has come to our attention that causes us to believe that the accompanying statement of unaudited financial results read with notes therein, prepared in all material respects in accordance with the applicable accounting standards and other recognized accounting practices and policies, has not disclosed the information required to be disclosed in terms of Regulation 33 of the SEBI (Listing Obligations and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2015, as amended, including the manner in which it is to be disclosed, or that it contains any material misstatement.
